Maurice Humphrey Participating In Alaska Soil Testing Program

Maurice E. Humphrey, USDA Soil Scientist for the Soil Conservation Service, who lives in Murray, is one of a team of soil scientists in Anchorage, Alaska this summer making a soil survey to show soil limitations for about 110,000 acres in the Anchorage Borough, according to SCS Area Conservationist William C. Lowry, Mayfield.

During the summer months of recent years, it has been the practice of the Soil Survey Staff in Alaska to secure a detail of soil scientists from the lower 48 states to take advantage of the long days and speed soil mapping, classifications, and interpretations of findings.

This year, in addition to Humphrey from Kentucky, there are soil scientists from Indiana, Ohio, Texas, and Virginia.

The soil survey Humphrey is assigned was initiated at the request of the U. S. Corps of Engineers and the municipality of Anchorage to provide soils information needed by planners, engineers, contractors, and others involved in the location, planning, and development of land for urban use.

In addition to the soil survey of the urban area near Anchorage, Humphrey reports, "a detailed soil survey is also being made of a forested area in the interior of Alaska that is completely roadless and uninhabited but has great potential for future agricultural development. This area is between the Nenana and Kantishna Rivers, nearer Fairbanks than Anchorage."

"Reconnaissance surveys," Humphrey said, "have shown that Alaska has over 18 million acres suitable for agriculture." Soil surveys show the location of the different soils on aerial photographs and interpretations are made showing the degree and kind of limitations for agriculture, woodland, wildlife, recreation, urban, and other uses.

According to Humphrey, "there are thousands of acres in the Anchorage Area which have more severe limitations than any soil in Western Kentucky."

Humphrey, who is assigned to the SCS Mayfield Area, will return in September to continue work on the soil survey of Lyon and Trigg Counties, which is scheduled for completion in 1978.

Humphrey, during his 35 years as soil scientist with SCS, has helped complete the soil surveys of Caldwell, Calloway, Marshall, Ballard, and McCracken Counties in West Kentucky. To determine whether a soil survey of the area that interests you is available, call the office of your County Conservation District. There is one located in each county seat with an experienced SCS Conservationist available to assist you.

The setting for the out-door concert will be "The Green" behind the University Library, a scenic area which will accommodate music lovers,

One Of Three Sought In Bus Hijacking Surrenders Friday

CHOWCHILLA, Calif. (AP) — The FBI today joined a nationwide dragnet for two men wanted in the kidnaping of 26 schoolchildren and their bus driver, after a third man sought in the bizarre mass abduction case surrendered.

Richard Allen Schoenfeld, 22, walked into the Oakland office of the Alameda County district attorney Friday and surrendered. He was accompanied by his father, a prominent podiatrist, and a lawyer.

A few hours later, federal and local arrest warrants were issued for Schoenfeld, his brother, James L., 24, and Frederick N. Woods IV, 24, son of the owner of the rock quarry where the kidnap victims were imprisoned for 18 hours last week.

The local warrants include 27 counts of kidnaping and 16 of armed robbery.

Chowchilla Justice Court Judge Howard C. Green signed the local arrest warrants, which set bail for the three at $1 million apiece. The affidavit supporting the warrants was ordered sealed for 10 days.

Charles W. Bates, special agent in charge of the FBI's San Francisco office, said, "Investigations conducted by the local authorities indicate that Woods and Schoenfeld had fled the state."

Madera County Sheriff Ed Bates said Richard Schoenfeld will be transferred to Madera from Oakland by Thursday and formal charges will be filed there.

Schoenfeld arrived with his father and lawyer Edward Merrill, who defended Symbionese Liberation Army member Joseph Remiro in a 1975 murder trial.

Schoenfeld's father practices in Atherton, south of San Francisco.

In Oakland, Dist. Atty. Lowell Jensen said the armed robbery charges involved trinkets and clothing taken from the children during the kidnaping.

Jensen said Schoenfeld was to be charged under a section of the state Penal Code which covers kidnap for ransom or robbery.

The children and their driver were kidnaped July 15 from a school bus taking them home after summer school classes. They were imprisoned in a moving van buried in the Alameda County rock quarry before they clawed their way out.

No ransom demand was received, but reports published in two newspapers Friday said investigators had found a rough draft of a ransom note demanding $5 million.

The Oakland Tribune and The Fresno Bee said the note was found at the Portola Valley estate of quarry owner Frederick N. Woods III, and the newspapers said officials believed the note was written by the younger Woods.

Another break in the case came Friday morning, when investigators found three vans believed used in the kidnaping. They were in a San Jose warehouse which investigators said was leased by young Woods last December.

Alameda County Sheriff's Deputy Jack Baugh said the license numbers matched the numbers recalled by bus driver Ed Ray.

State Getting Ready For Fall And Winter War Against Birds

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky is already preparing its fall and winter assault on the more than 20 million blackbirds that roost for the winter in the southwestern part of the state.

The state Pest and Noxious Weed Control Division expects to begin dispensing poison baits by November to farmers anxious to rid their feedlots of the feathered invaders, division director Coburn Gayle said Friday.

And, depending on the status of a federal court case in Washington, D.C., the division plans chemical spraying attacks next winter against roosts where spraying is approved by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The U.S. Department of The Interior has filed an environmental impact statement in Washington recommending the regulated use of the detergent PA-14 (Tergitol) against the winter-roosting blackbirds, starling and grackles.

The chemical is sprayed on the birds when they are in large roosts such as the ones in Western Kentucky.

It strips their feathers of protective oils, and if the weather is wet and cold, the birds die of exposure.

Last year, the Society for Animal Rights sought a restraining order in Federal District Court in Washington to prevent the use of the detergent, on grounds that a required environmental impact statement had not been filed.

The society agreed to hold the case in abeyance until the impact statement was filed, and the Interior Department stipulated that it would not use PA-14 in the meantime except in certified emergencies.

Now that the impact statement has been filed, (Federal District Judge)

William Bryant will decide the case on its merits.

With the statement filed, the Interior Department stipulation is no longer in effect, and spraying will be allowed this winter unless Bryant rules to the contrary before then.

Some roosts, including several in Kentucky, were sprayed last winter after Congress passed special legislation declaring that the birds were a threat to public health.

The birds are considered a health hazard because their droppings provide a breeding place for spores that cause histoplasmosis, a lung disease reportedly on the rise in Western Kentucky and Tennessee.

The Interior Department impact statement recommends reduction of the blackbird flocks — by not more than 50 million birds, or about one tenth of the estimated national blackbird population — to protect public health and agricultural interests.

Gayle said the winter invaders, and lesser numbers of blackbirds that stay in Kentucky during the summer, cost farmers heavily.

He said it was estimated that in the section of Western where the blackbird concentrations are heaviest—a six-county area stretching roughly from Hopkinsville to Bowling Green — farmers lose more than $7 million a year because of the birds.

The losses are in both livestock and grain, he said.

Gayle said the losses are particularly heavy in pig production, since the birds can spread transmissible gastroenteritis (TGE), a swine disease.

"The birds feed at boxes in one place and then they go to another, and that's how they spread it," he said. "It has practically wiped out pig production in Christian County."

Letter Might Convince Persistent Neighbors

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1976 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Our neighbors are among the nicest people we've ever met, but within the last few months, they have made subtle but persistent attempts to bring missionaries of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormons) into our home to show us the "right" religion.

They have told us that it is their "duty" to the Lord to show us how happy they are and how happy we would be with the Mormon church.

We have told them that we are quite satisfied with our religion and do not feel the need to change, but they keep trying.

How do we let them know without antagonizing them that we enjoy their friendship but aren't interested in their religion?

THE NEIGHBORS

DEAR NEIGHBORS: You seem able to communicate very well in a letter. If you've told them verbally and they aren't getting the message, write a letter. (Of course, after this hits print, you may not have to.)

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for saying that a husband should not confess his infidelity to his wife. I've always felt that in this regard, ignorance was bliss, but my husband had other ideas.

Several years ago, the company my husband works for sent him to Europe for three weeks. Knowing that the flesh is sometimes weak, before he left, I told him: "I don't believe you will ever be untrue to me, but if you should, please DON'T tell me! Even if I have my doubts, convince me that I'm wrong."

Well, he went, and he was untrue, and he couldn't wait to tell me about it. I forgave him, of course, but the hurt will always be there—plus the fear of a repeat performance. (As long as he strayed once, what's one more time?)

I agree with you, Abby. If you must confess an infidelity, confess it to your pastor, or ask the Lord to forgive you through your prayers, but spare your spouse the pain if possible.

HURT APLENTY

DEAR HURT: Confession to the spouse may be good for the soul, but my mail tells me it's bad for the marriage.

DEAR ABBY: I have a big problem. My husband sits in front of the television hour after hour, day after day, whenever he's home. He hardly ever talks to me anymore. He even eats his meals in front of the TV! I could take my clothes off and stand in front of the TV stark naked, and he would ask me to move so he could see the TV.

We have no children, and I'm afraid we won't ever have any as long as we have a TV set. It sure is a good method of birth control, but I would really like children.

What should I do? Dismantle the TV, or go out and get myself another man?

I am getting very lonely.

TV WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: How old is your husband? And how old are you? How long have you been married? Is this alleged sexual indifference in favor of the TV something new? Or has it been going on for a long time? Fill me in on the facts, and I'll tell you which to dismantle—the TV or your man.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARYLAND MOM: When your son starts telling you that he prefers blonde babysitters, he doesn't need one.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (24¢) envelope.

You are a great lover of luxuries and the good things of life; will work unremittingly to accumulate the things you want—and usually attain them. You have a flair for the dramatic and would make an outstanding writer, playwright, painter, statesman or lawyer. Let's Stay Well

Eye Injuries Among Tennis Players

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Eye injuries among tennis players are growing in frequency.

The popularity of tennis as a player and as a spectator sport has shown a substantial increase in recent years. More than 12 million Americans play tennis on about 110,000 tennis courts, which have been increasing in number at about 5,000 additional ones each year. As a result, exposure to this sport has increased dramatically in the last decade.

In addition to the "tennis shoulder" and "tennis elbow," abrasions, contusions, and sprains, even limb fractures, are common from strenuous play or a fall.

Of more concern is the growing number of eye injuries. They can vary from a mild bruise to serious damage to structures within the eye. Early detection and appropriate treatment by an ophthalmologist may be required.

Many eye injuries result from rushing the net and being hit in the front of the eye by a tennis ball traveling at high velocity.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association, Morton Seelenfreund, M.D., and Dennis Freilich, M.D., reported on 10 eye injuries which resulted from confusion of the eyeballs by high-speed tennis balls.

The injuries may consist of bruising the lids and front portion (cornea) of the eye. While these are uncomfortable, they are often self-limiting and heal spontaneously, if treated promptly.

The force from the tennis ball may break a blood vessel in the front of the eye and cause the anterior chamber (behind the cornea and in front of the iris or curtain about the pupil) to fill with blood. If the injury is not severe and limited to the anterior chamber, the blood will absorb, and the eye will return to normal. The iris or lens may be traumatized.

Deeper injuries may result in bleeding deeper in the eyeball and even tearing and detachment of the retina. Such damage requires early recognition and prompt surgery by a specially trained ophthalmologist.

The authors advise prevention of eye injuries by players wearing rubberized eye protectors, similar to those used by handball players. The field of vision of the player is not impaired, and the opening in front of the eye will not permit a tennis ball to strike the eyeball.

Eye injuries should receive prompt evaluation by an eye specialist.

Q: Mrs. D. V. is concerned because her 6-year-old son bites his nails to the quick. She asks whether this practice indicates a vitamin deficiency or some other deficiency.

A: While nail biting is not uncommon in youngsters, it is not regarded as meaning that a nutritional deficiency exists. More often, the habit is regarded as evidence of insecurity and nervous tension.

In managing this problem, remember that it usually subsides later spontaneously. Avoid reprimanding or punishing him because of his nail biting. Make him feel more secure by spending ample time with him, extending encouragement, complimenting his good attributes and supplying him with love and affection. Try to find activities for him which will keep his hands as busy as possible.

☆ Ms. A. P. asks if wearing panty hose can cause vaginal infections.

A: Panty hose do not in themselves cause vaginal infections but, like other tight-fitting garments, panty hose provide a moist, warm site at the vaginal orifice where causative organisms can grow.

If the adjacent area is sensitive to chemicals used for birth control or feminine hygiene, the added moisture may encourage irritation or provide secretions in which organisms may grow and act as sources of infection.

In other words, consider substances other than panty hose which may be contributing factors.

Booklet On How To Buy Used Car

The nation's Datsun dealers are helping prove that, contrary to old beliefs, buying a used car need not be buying someone else's problems.

But what does one look for?
Well, it could be foamy or milk engine oil... noisy brakes... or a grimy, black tail pipe.
Danger signs such as these points to potentially serious problems. Yet not all car buyers recognize them.

Such tips are included in a 12-page booklet called "Used Car Buyers Guide" prepared by Datsun's dealer development department.
Free copies of the booklet are available locally at Murray Datsun.

An introductory section details where to look for a used car and what to ask the salesperson when a suitable auto is found. It also discusses the kind of vehicle to buy, stressing that the car should fit the buyer's income as well as family size.

Five pages of the booklet describe how to make a physical and visual examination of a used car.
Two final sections explain used car financing and the purpose of guide books, such as the Blue Book.

KEY PLAY—This bunt by Charlie Santagado in the first inning turned out to be a key play in the game. With a runner on at first, Santagado hit the ball back toward the pitcher. The runner was called out at second but the Mayfield second baseman who covered on the play dropped the ball. But the umpire didn't see the play and called the Murray runner out. That took the wind from the sails and prevented what could have been a big rally in the inning.

Americans Rely On Swimmers For Lead

MONTREAL, (AP) — American forces scored a couple of break-throughs, but must rely on the return to action of their unbeaten swimmers if they are to have any chance of regaining the lead from the Russians in the XXI Olympic Games.

With the swimmers taking a night off, and Nikolai Andrianov running up three golds, a silver and a bronze in men's gymnastics, Russia swept in front Friday night in the total medal count with 13 golds, 16 silver and 9 bronze.

And, too, the Soviets clinched the gold medal in women's basketball with a 112-77 rout of the United States behind 7-foot Iuliyaka Semenova. The medal won't be counted in their total until the close of the women's tournament next week.

The United States, which gained only two of the 33 medals awarded, dropped out of first place and now has a 13-11-6 total. East Germany is a close third at 11-9-8.

Although Kathy McMillan and Peter Kormann picked up U.S. medals where they're usually lacking, it was the Americans' worst day of the Games. The Yanks didn't win anything. They put only two crews in the men's rowing finals and they lost their last hope for a medal in Greco-Roman wrestling when 343-pound Pete Lee was disqualified for being too passive.

The prospects for an American rebound are good, however.

Nats, Pirates Score Wins In Softball Play

The Nats scored 12 runs in the first inning to walk away with a 23-9 win over the Aces and gain a berth in the championship game of the Little League Softball League Tournament.

The Nats will face the Pirates who scored an upset victory over the Reds, 17-10, in the final game.

Betsy Gore and Traci Wells led the Nats' hitting attack with three hits apiece. Lisa Wallin and Judy Outland added two hits for the winners.

Susan Nall had two hits for the Aces while teammate Jan Cole hit a triple.

Teresa Dick led the Pirates with three hits as teammates Bumphis and McGeehe each had two hits.

For the Reds, Jenny Lovins had two hits and Tonya Alexander ripped a homerun and a single.

The Reds will meet the Aces in a consolation game Monday at 6:30 p.m.

The Pirates and the Nats will follow in the championship game at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Both games will be played at the old Little League field at the city park.

The swimmers are back in action tonight. They haven't lost yet, accounting for nine golds and 18 of the American team's 30 total medals. But they face perhaps their biggest challenge of the Games.

Their dreams of an unaccomplished sweep of all the gold medals could hinge on the 200-meter butterfly match between John Hencken and David Wilkie of Great Britain.

Hencken beat Wilkie in the 100-meter butterfly earlier in these Games and is the world record holder at the 200 meter distance. Wilkie, however, has had better 200 times than the American this year and is ranked the world's chief hope of stopping the U.S. swimming sweep.

In the 200 meter backstroke, world record holder John Naber of Menlo Park, Calif., is heavily favored to win his fourth gold medal.

The United States has strong medal possibilities in all three track and field finals, the shot, the men's 100-meter dash and the women's javelin.

Kate Schmidt, Pacific Palisades, Calif., has a pending world record in the javelin.

Women's rowing finals also are scheduled. Americans have chances for a couple of medals there, particularly in the eight-oared race.

The silver medal picked up by Miss McMillan represented the first American medal in 20 years in the women's long jump.

"I'm disappointed and I'm pleased," Kathy said after her leap of 21 feet 10 1/4 inches. Winner Angela Voight of East Germany jumped 22-0 1/2.

The bronze medal won by Kormann was the first by an American in men's gymnastics since 1932.

Kormann's medal came in floor exercise, one of three events won by the muscular, 24-year-old Russian Andrianov. He also won the all-around gymnast title earlier in the Games and finished competition with four gold, a silver and a bronze.

The close of gymnastics also produced the day's biggest row, again over cheating.

Gene Wettstone, head trainer of the U.S. men's team, said he was approached by the Bulgarian head coach about a deal prior to the competition.

"The first thing he said was 'If you will support our man in the floor exercise, we'll favor your team,'" Wettstone said. The Bulgarian coach Ezejean Zamskov, was not available for comment.

The American women simply had no chance against the giant Russian basketball team. The Russians ran up a 17-0 lead. Miss Semenova, who scored 32 points, grabbed 19 rebounds and missed only three shots from the floor.

Twenty-six sad little eyes looked up at their coach.

"Life is nothing but peaks and valleys. Right now, you are in the valley," Coach Jim Calvin told his Murray Little League All-Stars.

"You'll be in that valley for a couple of days and I'll be there with you. But we have another tournament to play in at Hopkinsville so we'll be back on the peak again," Calvin added.

It was all over. In a well-played game, Mayfield Western nipped Murray 3-0 at Mayfield Friday night and ended Murray's hopes of winning the District title for the third consecutive year and also ended Murray's chances at a third consecutive trip to the State Tournament.

Mayfield Western was a good ballclub. And at least on Friday, they were better than Murray.

Kim Bostick, who threw a one-hitter last Monday in winning a 7-0 decision over Lyon County, got the starting mound assignment for Murray.

Bostick pitched well enough to win. But unfortunately, Murray could not get the big hits when they were needed. Otherwise, Bostick would have probably had another win.

One of the key things in the game happened in the top of the first.

After Gary Sims opened the game with a single, Charlie Santagado hit a bunt back toward the box and the throw went to second where the umpire called Sims out.

While the umpire was putting body English into his bid for an Academy Award, the ball fell out of the Mayfield second baseman's glove.

It was an obvious mistake by the umpire as the ball fell and rolled a few feet away from the bag. In fact, the throw even pulled the second baseman off the bag. But because the umpire had his head turned in the other direction, Sims was still out.

The next man up, shortstop Kevin Calvin, walked to put men on at first and second and then cleanup hitter Don Hargrove hit a smash to the opposite field in left. The Mayfield leftfielder speared the ball on the run for the out.

Had Sims been called safe, Hargrove would have had a sacrifice fly and Murray would have had a 1-0 lead. But if a grasshopper had wings, he wouldn't bump his rear every time he hopped either.

In the top of the second, Murray got two hits but still couldn't score.

Then in the bottom of the third, it was all over.

Leadoff hitter Gary Moreland opened the frame by drawing a walk off Bostick. Pitcher Todd Ashley Smith singled and John Reed walked to load the bases.

Mayfield used another walk, two hits and a passed ball and, before the inning had ended, Murray trailed 3-0.

The play of the game came with two out and one on in the bottom of the fourth.

John Reed of Mayfield hit a smash up the middle and it looked to be a sure hit. But Murray second baseman Gary Sims ran over and backhanded the ball, stepped on second for the forceout and received a huge ovation from both Mayfield and Murray fans.

Murray made one final threat in the top of the sixth.

Don Hargrove opened the frame with a single and Dan Key followed up by getting hit by a pitch. But a strikeout, a fielder's choice and a tap back to the pitcher retired the side and ended the game.

Bostick finished the contest with 11 strikeouts while walking six. He gave up only four hits. Winning hurler Todd Ashley Smith fanned six, walked two, hit two and scattered five hits to Murray.

Coach Calvin, who was assisted by James Hooper, expressed his thanks to the following coaches from within the Murray Little League who gave their time to help with the All-Stars: Carl Ellis, Marshall Abell, Gil Galloway and Tommy Marshall.

"We would also like to thank the many parents who cooperated with us," Calvin added.

The 16-team, single-elimination tourney at Hopkinsville will begin August 12 and run through August 15. The Murray All-Stars and the Murray "B" Team will both compete in the affair.

Unser Homers In 11th To Haunt Former Met Teammates

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

When the New York Mets made a trade earlier this week, they had no idea it would pay quick dividends.

But it did—for the Montreal Expos.

Del Unser, sent to Montreal along with Wayne Garrett last Tuesday in a swap for Pepe Mangual and Jimmy Dwyer, came right back to haunt his old team Friday night.

"I haven't hit the ball that well all season," said Unser after his solo home run in the 11th inning gave Montreal a 3-2 victory over New York.

Unser's blast came off Skip Lockwood and brought a deafening ovation from the fans of 11,134 at Jarry Park. As he crossed home plate, his new teammates poured out of the dugout to congratulate him.

In the other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds beat the Atlanta Braves 3-1; the Philadelphia Phillies routed the Pittsburgh Pirates 11-1; the Chicago Cubs trimmed the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3; the San Francisco Giants blanked the Houston Astros 3-0 and the Los Angeles Dodgers turned back the San Diego Padres 5-0.

Reds 3, Braves 1

George Foster broke a tie with a two-run single in the eighth inning and right-hander Santo Alcala hurled a seven-hitter as Cincinnati beat Atlanta.

Ken Griffey led off the eighth with a single and moved to third on Joe Morgan's base hit. Foster then singled to short right-center, scoring both Griffey and Morgan.

Phillies 11, Pirates 1

Dave Cash drilled an inside-the-park home run, two singles and batted in two runs as Philadelphia rocked Pittsburgh and extended its National League East lead to 12 games—the longest of the season.

While Cash and his teammates ripped starter Doc Medich, 5-9, and two Pirate relievers for 15 hits, including Mike Schmidt's 25th home run, Philadelphia right-hander Jim Lonborg set down the Pirates for his 12th victory in 17 decisions.

Cubs 4, Cardinals 3

Pinch-hitter Jerry Morales smacked a leadoff home run in the seventh inning, snapping a 3-3 tie and sending Chicago over St. Louis.

Morales' homer, his 11th of the season, came off Cards' starter Harry Rasmussen, 3-8, after Chicago rallied earlier in the game to overcome 1-0 and 3-1 Cardinal leads.

Giants 3, Astros 0

Jim Barr fired a four-hitter and Gary Matthews drove home a pair of runs with a fifth-inning single, leading San Francisco past Houston. Barr, 8-6, had letter-perfect control, allowing no walks as he scored his second shutout of the season. The loser was J.R. Richard, 10-11.

Dodgers 5, Padres 0

Tommy John hurled his first shutout in more than two years and Bill Buckner and Steve Yeager slugged home runs as Los Angeles beat San Diego. John, 6-6, scattered four hits and walked only one in pitching his first shutout since June 4, 1974.

CONFERENCE—Coach Jim Calvin has a little talk with his Little League All-Star battery of catcher Dan Key and pitcher Kim Bostick. Bostick was touched for three runs in the third inning and that was all Mayfield needed for a 3-0 victory.

Local Bowlers Finish Eighth At Evansville

A contingent of Murray bowlers called "The Murray Five" has just received notification of their finishing in eighth place at the Evansville Press Women's Ten-Pin Classic in Evansville, Ind.

The tourney started back in May and ended only a few days ago.

There were over 800 teams entered in competition. The Murray team finished with a series of 3022, handicap.

Members of the team include Marge Hinman, captain; Wanda Nance, Mary Harris, Isabell Parks and Nete Burnham.

Alexander Hurls Eight Frames Of No-Hit Pitching For Yanks

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Doyle Alexander must feel left out when it comes to no-hitters. Otherwise, why would he keep trying to pitch one?

Alexander and Ed Figueroa are the New York Yankees' only starting pitchers without a no-hitter to their credit. Catfish Hunter, of course, hurled a perfect game against Minnesota in 1968, Ken Holtzman has a pair of no-hitters and Dock Ellis also pitched one.

None of them, however, did it in a Yankee uniform. Alexander came close last month when he retired the first 21 Cleveland batters on June 24 but was kayoed in the eighth inning.

He came closer Friday night with eight no-hit innings before Boston's Rick Burleson singled on the first pitch of the ninth. Alexander allowed two more singles in the Yankees' 9-1 victory over the Red Sox.

In other American League games, Oakland's Vida Blue fanned 13 in blanking the Kansas City Royals 2-0 on six hits, the Milwaukee Brewers edged the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 in 13 innings, despite a record-tying home run by Reggie Jackson, the Cleveland Indians whipped the Detroit Tigers 9-4 and the Minnesota Twins downed the Chicago White Sox 6-2. California and Texas were not scheduled.

A's 2, Royals 0

Blue's 13 strikeouts tied his own club record since the A's moved to Oakland. They broke a scoreless tie in the seventh inning when Claudell Washington tripled off Marty Pattin and Billy Williams singled him home. A sacrifice and Bill North's single produced the other run.

The triumph was the second-place A's 13th in their last 18 games and left them eight games behind Kansas City, the closest they've been in almost a month in their quest for a sixth straight American League West Division pennant.

Brewers 4, Orioles 3

Bill Sharp's tie-breaking pinch double keyed a two-run Milwaukee uprising in the 13th inning. Darrell Porter then scored what proved to be the winning run on Darrell Porter's bases-loaded grounder.

With two out in the bottom of the 13th, Jackson homered for the sixth game in a row, tying the AL record shared by five other players. The major league mark of eight was set by Pittsburgh's Dale Long in 1958.

Indians 9, Tigers 4

Successive home runs by Larvell Blanks and Rico Carty sparked a four-run third inning that broke open a close game. Following the homers, Buddy Bell doubled, Boog Powell singled and Ray Fosse tripled.

Temper flared in the top of the seventh when Detroit's Willie Horton was knocked down by a pitch for the second time. Both benches emptied briefly and two pitches later Horton smashed a two-run homer.

Twins 6, White Sox 2

Run-scoring singles by Lyman Bostock, Tony Oliva and Bob Randall keyed a four-run eighth-inning rally that lifted Minnesota over Chicago. Rod Carew, who started the rally with a single, drove in run with a third-inning grounder and singled and scored in the ninth.

FIRST TIME — Carolyn Caldwell of the Oaks Country Club recently scored her first hole-in-one in the 110-yard 10th hole at the Oaks. She used a five-iron and playing in the foursome were Polly Seale, Virginia Jones and Mary Alice Smith. Mrs. Caldwell, a five-year golfer, will be eligible for a free trip to Scotland through the Rusty Nail hole-in-one contest and also she is eligible to be a prize winner in Golf Digest's hole-in-one sweepstakes.

Murray Colt Leaguers Lose 7-4 To Mayfield

A strong Mayfield team handed the Murray Colt League All-Stars a 7-4 setback Friday night in State Tournament play at Brooks Stadium in Paducah.

Mayfield is now undefeated in the tourney and in the driver's seat.

Murray is 1-1 in the tourney and must defeat Marshall County in tonight's 6 p.m. game in order to stay alive in the double elimination affair.

If Murray wins the contest, then the locals would meet Mayfield immediately after the first game. If Murray loses, they are out of the tourney.

Should Murray defeat Marshall County tonight and then win over Mayfield in tonight's second game, the championship game would be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

No further details on the Murray-Mayfield game were available at press time.

Dean Cherry had 3 hits in 3 at bats for Murray. Others hitting safely were Gibson 3, Wilson 1, Denham 2, Taylor 1, and Hendrix 1.

Taiwan Wins

AGANA, Guam (AP) — Taiwan, the four time world champion, won the opening baseball game Saturday in the Far East Senior Little League Tournament.

Taiwan's Chen Chung-hai struck out nine and gave up five hits as Taiwan defeated Guam 5-3 in the opener of the best of three series.

The winner of the series advances to the Senior Little League World Series next Monday in Gary, Ind.

Nicklaus Holds Lead In Canadian Tourney

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) —

The Canadian Open is the only major national championship golf tournament Jack Nicklaus hasn't won, but he seems almost blasé about owning the halfway lead.

Perhaps winning 75 tournaments in a fabled career, as Nicklaus has, makes enthusiasm over a 36-hole lead a rather useless thrill—even though he lost the event in a sudden-death playoff last year to Tom Weiskopf and was runnerup two other times.

"That's why I'm here—to win," Nicklaus said Friday, after turning in his second straight 67 for a six-under-par 134. It gave him a two-stroke lead over four golfers: U. S. Open champion Jerry Pate, Jerry Heard, Bob Wynn and J.C. Sneed.

Arnold Palmer, tied for Road Race Set

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — Organizers say plans have been completed for the Paducah Summer Festival's annual Road Race, a 10-mile endurance test to begin at 8 a.m. Saturday, July 31.

Promoters of the race said Friday the terrain is 95 per cent flat—excellent for "fast times among the tracksters and would-be tracksters."

Trophies will be given to the first 15 finishers, the first woman finisher, and the youngest and oldest finishers. The first 36 to finish will receive souvenir t-shirts.

Manor, Winitzky To Meet On Clay

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — John McEnroe of Douglas Manor, N.Y., and Van Winitzky of Miami Beach, Fla., were to meet today for the championship of the National Junior Clay Court Tennis Championships.

McEnroe defeated Eric Iskersky of Rossford, Ohio 6-3, 6-1 Friday to gain the championship match and No. 6 seeded Winitzky tripped No. 2 Robert Van 't Hof of Downey, Calif., 6-3, 7-5.

Van 't Hof, the last of the top five seeds left in competition had defeated Mel Purcell of Murray, Ky., 6-2, 6-1 Thursday.

second with Heard with a 66 after Thursday's opening round, shot a 71 to join Bruce Crampton at 137.

First-round leader George Burns, who tied the course record with a 65 Thursday, soared to a 75 to stand at even par 140 over the 6,696-yard, par-70 Essex Golf and Country Club course.

Sneed and Britain's Tony Jacklin had Friday's best score with 66s. The only other golfer besides Nicklaus with a 67 was Detroit's Calvin Peete, who was among seven at 138. Weiskopf had 142.

The field of 150 was cut to 76 for today's round. The finale of the $200,000 tourney will be played Sunday, with the winner collecting $40,000. The purse is worth about $208,000 in American money.

Nicklaus has won only one tournament this season but ranks fifth in winnings with $129,000.

In eight of 12 events he's finished in the top 10—five times in the top four.

Nicklaus had six birdies Friday, including three on the back nine where he also had a bogey and double-bogey.

Bob Warren Holds Recent Cage Clinic

A one-week long basketball camp for boys and girls was held at the Benton Junior High gymnasium recently.

The camp was conducted by Bob Warren, a former American Basketball Association player and a graduate of South Marshall High School and Vanderbilt University.

A total of 137 youngsters participated in the camp.

At the end of the week, the cagers competed in three areas: ball handling, free throws and field goals.

Trophy winners for ball handling were Richie Morris, Bruce Ford, Troy Rose, Daniel Lassiter, John Treas, Scott Waldrop, Brad Haley and Chris Gunn. Girl winners included Donna Jackson, Kim Crowell, Kelly York, Mina Todd and Shannon Morgan.

Free throw winners were Gene Dale Lockhart, Gary Emerson, Russ Gore, Jeff Powell, Lynndy Moss, Brandon Morgan, Mat Thompson, Kevin Byars, Doug McGregor, Barry Enix and Chuck Adams. Girl winners included Kelly English, Rachel Lamb, Carla English, Anita Treas and Rose Ross.

Field goal winners included Kenneth McCuiston, Guy Rurr, Martin Clapp, Martin Conner, Jeff Garrison, Todd Dick, Russell Usher, Tim Cook, Shane Wilkins and Doug McCoy.

Torrential Downpour, Rioting Fans End All-Star Game In 3rd

By MIKE O'BRIEN

AP Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — It was perhaps the most bizarre ending in football history, but the Pittsburgh Steelers took it as casually as factory hands let off work early because the machinery had broken down.

After all, the Steelers already had finished their jobs—not to mention the blundering College All-Stars—before torrential rains and chaos in the crowd forced a halt to play at 11:49 p.m. EDT, with 1:22 left in the third quarter Friday night.

Thousands in the crowd of 52,895 immediately swarmed onto Soldier Field's artificial turf, frolicking in the puddles and tearing down both goal posts. The Steelers, who had mounted a 24-0 lead on three Roy Gerela field goals and second-half touchdowns by Franco Harris, cheerfully accepted an early victory.

"I've never seen anything

Macek Signs

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Don Macek, the last of the San Diego Chargers top draft choice holdouts, signed with the National Football League club Friday.

The Chargers said Macek, a Boston College guard who was their No. 2 choice in the past draft, would report to camp today.

Macek and two other new Chargers, No. 1 choice Joe Washington of Oklahoma and No. 3 pick Larry Dorsey of Tennessee State, were in Chicago Friday night to play in the College All Star game against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Bills Sign Clark

BUFFALO (AP) — Mario Clark, the club's number one choice in the National Football League draft, was signed to a series of one-year contracts, the Buffalo Bills announced Friday.

The defensive back played college ball at the University of Oregon.

like it. It was like Custer's last stand," chortled Steeler quarterback Terry Bradshaw, who had shown Super Bowl form by completing 11 of 26 passes for 174 yards on a field slicked by pregame showers.

"It was funny—not at all scary," Chuck Noll, the Steelers' usually taciturn head coach, chuckled.

But All-Star Coach Ara Parseghian, directing a team for the first time since he resigned after a brilliant coaching career at Notre Dame in 1974, said he was "absolutely shocked by the fans."

The All-Stars had the ball on the Steeler 34-yard line when play was halted. Pittsburgh's famed Steel Curtain defense had almost totally muzzled an All-Star offense weakened by injury to quarterbacks Mike Kruczek of Boston College and Craig Penrose of San Diego State.

Jeb Blount of Tulsa quarterbacked the Stars the rest of the way, but the wet field and the relentless Steeler defense made Blount's catchup task virtually impossible.

Blount managed to complete six of 12 passes for 59 yards, but was intercepted once and tackled for losses four times.

Bradshaw passed to Lynn Swann for 13 yards and Rocky Bleier hit right tackle for 15 more on the Steelers' second series as they marched to a first down at the All-Star 10. But after two running plays lost three yards, the Steelers settled for a 29-yard field goal by Gerela.

A fumble by Penrose at the All-Star 15 and an interception by Jack Lambert at midfield set up Gerela field goals of 32 and 29 yards in the second quarter.

The Steelers struck quickly in the third quarter, scoring a safety when All-Star center Ray Pinney snapped the ball over punter Rick Engles' head and out of the end zone.

Jack Deloplane returned the ensuing kick 26 yards to the Stars' 26, setting up a 21 yard scoring burst by Harris.

Moments later, Tommy Reamon caught a Bradshaw pass for a 25 yard gain to the Stars' two, then plowed over on the next play to cap the scoring.

The pros now lead the series 31-9-2, with the Stars' last victory having been 20-17 over the Green Bay Packers in 1963.

Pony League To Host Regional Tournament

The Murray Pony League All-Stars will host the Pony League Southeastern Regional Tournament August 5-8 at the league diamond at the Murray-Calloway County Park.

Besides the host Murray team, other teams will include the Kentucky state champions, the Illinois state champs, the Indiana state champs and the winner of the game between the Missouri and Kansas State champions.

Tom Eisenmann and Chuck Fowler will be coaching the Pony League All-Stars with help from Mike Hobbie and Bill Edwards.

Members of the Pony League All-Stars are as follows: Kim Wilson, Kelly White, Nicky Swift, Ricky Smith, Robert Santagado, Craig Rogers, Eddie Requarth, Keith Overby, Fred Kemp, Tony Herndon, Timmy Graham, Alan Gibbs, Mark Erwin, Keith Edwards and Grady Bostick.

Alternates include Charlie Wells, Eddie Rhodes and Tim McAllister.

Don't Let Hot Water Costs Make You BOIL

About 25 cents of every dollar in your electric bill goes for hot water when you have an electric water heater. This percentage, however, can be reduced through wise and careful practices.

Shower instead of floating in the tub. Either wash full loads of clothes or reduce the amount of hot water per load. The dishwasher shouldn't be turned on until it's full. Or when doing dishes by hand, wash them in a full sink, not under a running faucet. Set the water heater thermostat no higher than 150 degrees. And as for leaky faucets, fix them as soon as they start to drip.

This way, hot water costs won't be higher than they should. And you won't boil.

Outdoor Lore To Sponsor Field & Stream's Awards Program For Second Year Running

As another in a series of special services to local hunters and fishermen of the area, Outdoor Lore will again sponsor the nationally famous Field & Stream "Awards for Sportsmen" program.

Fred Gardner of Murray Bait Co. and Jerry McConnell of Uncle Jeff's Sporting Goods, authorized agents of the awards program, now have the affidavit forms for those who wish to participate.

A number of attractive awards for big game, fishing and bird shooting are available from Field & Stream. Each award is presented on a complimentary basis for trophies meeting certain requirements.

The Honor Badge program introduced forty years ago appeals to sportsmen of all ages. Mounted in game room or on a sportsman's hat, it's a distinctive touch and welcome recognition of achievement.

The emblems are made in a bronze finish, except for three special Award Pins finished in gold, silver, and green bronze for Field & Stream Annual Fishing Contest winners. Mr. Wm. Crooks of Ellis Drive, Murray was a winner in last year's contest with his 1 pound 13 ounce bluegill caught out of a watershed with a cane pole. The bluegill is mounted and can be seen at Murray Bait.

Division awards are given for bagging Wild Turkey, various Big Game animals and First Bird badges for the beginning bird hunter.

Of particular interest at this time of year is the sport of fishing and attention is directed toward our also sponsoring the Field & Stream 66th Annual Fishing Contest. The two divisions which affect most of the fishermen in this area will be (1) Fresh-Water

Fly Casting and (2) Fresh-Water Open. The sponsors will also be agencies through which salt-water trophies may be entered. Certificates of Honorable Mention will be awarded for the best entries by state.

A special Junior Division for children up to 12 years of age is also offered. Honor Badge and Certificate for each eligible entry meeting the legal minimum weight requirement in state where caught is sent to the entries. All fish must be caught on standard rod, reel, and line with either bait or artificial lure. There are no restrictions as to line and leader test or length. Fish must be hooked and played by the Junior angler. Adults are not permitted to touch the tackle and may only assist in the landing of the fish with net or gaff in the recognized manner. There will be three winners in each class. Among the different freshwater classes are Largemouth Bass; Smallmouth Bass; Black Bullhead (catfish); Yellow Perch; and the Walleye.

Outdoor Lore, Murray Bait Co., and Uncle Jeff's Sporting Goods will assist all applicants in filling out their awards affidavits and fishing contest applications. Contact any of these sponsors for having photographs made. There is no charge for the photographs or for contest entry.

The awards program is in no way to be construed as an all out competitive contest but instead a recognition of the skill used in hunting or fishing. All game and fish must be taken in accordance with the game laws of the state or province in which it was taken.

ONE AND A HALF TONS OF FISH — A recent fishing trip to Florida proved successful for 10 Kentucky men as they hauled in 3000 pounds of red snapper, groupers and mackerel. Pictured above is (back row from left) Joe Mason, Mayfield; Bob Beach, Murray; Hafton Garner, Murray; (front row from left) Fred Gardner, Murray; Pete Farley, Murray; J. P. (Lulu) Walker, Murray; Ed Morgan, Murray; Carlo Sandlin, Lexington; and Mason Thomas, Murray. Not pictured but accompanying these local men on the trip was Wayne Darnell. The bulk of the catch was red snapper in the 6 to 8 pound range. The group was using squid for bait and fished approximately 130 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico from Panama City, Florida. Lower left picture shows Carlo Sandlin from Lexington with a 50 pound King Mackerel he boated. Fred Gardner of Murray (lower right) holds a 50 pound red snapper he had just boated. Fred is having the snapper mounted. A similar trip last year gave Fred the opportunity to hang into and boat a 750 pound shark. All the fish caught and not claimed was sold in the rough to a local commercial wholesale house. Persons interested in a charter trip can obtain that information from Fred Gardner at Murray Bait.

Try Your Luck With Poppers In The Rip Rap

By BILL BERGSTROM
Associated Press Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — It may be better to throw your popper near the rip rap than to risk losing it in the stickups.

But if it's crappie results you're after, better try over submerged cover this week.

If you want to try your luck in jumps, wait for shad.

Seasoned fishermen can learn all this by reading the fishing report put out twice a week by the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Resources Department.

The report gives the fishing conditions in Kentucky's major reservoirs.

To the experienced fisherman, it's in plain English, but to nonanglers or those new to the sport it may seem a bit incomprehensible.

Pete Pfeiffer, the department's assistant director of fisheries, explained Thursday what some of the terms mean.

For instance, crappie fishing is not necessarily bad fishing.

Crappie, pronounced croppie, are in the sunfish family. They grow to a weight of a pound or more and are "very good to eat," Pfeiffer said.

This week, in some Kentucky lakes, crappie are being caught near submerged cover, which Pfeiffer explained refers to tree limbs, rocks, or other underwater objects that give fish a place to live or hide.

A popper is a small fishing lure that floats on the surface, he said. When it is moved by twitching the fishing rod, it makes a splashing, popping noise in the water.

"It's designed to simulate a bug or something that would fall in the lake and would kick and disturb the surface," Pfeiffer said.

Bluegill, a fish particularly tasty when filleted and breaded before cooking, can often be caught on poppers, he said.

Using crickets for bait and fishing a local farm pond, Roger Chrisman and Bucky Erwin brought in this respectable stringer of bluegill. The fifteen fish stringer weighed in at 10 pounds 12 ounces.

Bowhunter's Bag

By Barry William Drow

ARCHERY WORLD

BASICS OF BETTER SHOOTING

1. STANCE

- open stance
- feet apart, shoulder width
- weight divided evenly on both feet

2. NOCK AN ARROW

- double nocking point
- nock fits string snugly
- odd feather points away from bow

3. STRING HAND

- forms Boy Scout salute
- string DEEP in first crease of finger joints
- fingers curl around string, forming HOOK, turn tips of fingers toward you
- keep back of hand straight with arm, relax wrist

4. BOW HAND/BOW ARM

- bow fits in V of index finger/thumb
- index finger/thumb form loose ring around bow handle
- bow held against muscular pad below thumb
- wrist, fingers relaxed
- turn bottom of bow arm elbow away from string and hold elbow stiff (locked, if possible)

5. HEAD UP/SHOULDERS BACK

- raise head to near vertical
- look at center of target
- bow handle in V, elbow turned out, string fingers hooked, string held deep (this is THE UNIT)

6. RAISE UNIT/PRE-DRAW AIM

- raise bow arm and draw arm to shoulder height
- INSTINCTIVE AIMING
- with both eyes open, position

tip of arrow about 18 inches below target center (using a 36-inch target face, standing 20-30 feet from target)

- shift eyes to center of target; concentrate on CENTER without moving unit

SIGHT AIMING

- place sight in middle of target and maintain general sight location

7. FULL DRAW/SIDE ANCHOR

- bow arm straight and locked, maintain pre-draw aim or sight position
- draw string by pulling with shoulder and back muscles
- pulling elbow slightly higher than shoulder
- to anchor, touch corner of mouth with index finger while thumb slides along and drops behind and under jaw

8. HOLD AND AIM

- bow pre-aimed, so concentrate on CENTER of target, maintain sight position in CENTER of target
- constant feeling of tension in drawing-arm shoulder and back muscles
- hold for slow count of 'three'

9. RELEASE

- eyes concentrating on center of target
- anchor firm along jaw
- start pulling shoulder blades together and elbow back
- as shoulder blades pull together and elbow back, relax string fingers

10. FOLLOW THROUGH

- eyes continue concentrating on center of target
- string fingers slide along jaw and touch side of neck
- bow arm remains in line with target
- hold follow through until hear arrow hit target

Form analysis for shooter and instructor stance: Better balance prevents natural body sway, gives shooter more stability in wind; permits wider range of movement from hips and waist (target and hunting). Target shooter must make conscious effort to place feet in same position for each shot.

nock an arrow: Double nocking point adds confidence to arrow nock and string placement; snug nocks help prevent arrow falling off string during draw and eliminate releasing string without arrow fully nocked (mis-nocking).

string hand: Boy Scout salute positions hand to receive string, keeps little finger off string, folds thumb against palm and positions it at angle that will fit under jaw at anchor. DEEP and HOOK used to establish full, confident hold on string, preventing arrow from falling off arrow rest. Wrist straight and relaxed keeps hand from cupping.

bow hand/bow arm: Bow handle pressure must be balanced on thumb pad between index finger and thumb, loose hand prevents flinching at release, hand should conform to handle design. Turning elbow away from string allows string clearance, prevents "string sting". Use long training armguard while working out elbow problems. Locked elbow prevents collapse.

head up/shoulders back: Basic transition step establishes positive target attitude and unit position; allows shooter and instructor to re-check bow hand, bow arm and string finger position.

raise unit/pre-draw aim: Use either pre-draw gap or pre-draw sight method. With unit in pre-draw position, pre-draw gap permits shooter to aim arrow prior to stress of full draw, places bow arm in proper position with target, gives consistent basic aiming technique, shooter not pre-occupied with aiming at full draw and can concentrate on form. Limitation—effective only at close range (up to twenty yards). Bow sight method allows simple, positive aiming, shooter has constant visual reference of sight placement. Limitations—over-emphasis on sighting may cause loss of form concentration. With either sighting technique, shooter and instructor must emphasize arrow grouping rather than bullseye hits, extremely important that shooter look at and concentrate on the spot he intends to hit. Full draw/side anchor: Stress full draw and solid anchor (use side anchor with both pre-draw gap and sight methods); full draw maintained by constant pull from shoulder and back muscles, high elbow allows better tension and alignment, collapse less likely to occur. Anchor must feel secure at all times, located at a position simple to duplicate with each shot. Anchor is the rear sight. hold and aim: Eyes concentrate on center of target, mind concentrates on tension in back muscles, hold must be firm and confident. release: Increase in shoulder and back tension triggers release hand to relax; release is activated by relaxing entire string hand from wrist forward. follow through: Eye concentration on center of target prevents peaking and flinching; follow through should be a natural reaction of back tension, should not be inhibited or forced. A good demonstration in follow through is worth a thousand words.

"...if the bass or crappie won't cooperate, maybe 'old whiskers' will."

By John Wilson

Guest Writer

"Old Whiskers" isn't much to look at, but he proves the old saying that beauty (or the lack of it) is only skin deep. Under the catfish's ugly skin, there's some really beautiful meat just waiting to be turned into a mouth-watering fish fry.

And a catfish isn't as particular about what he eats as are some of the "fancier" game fish we often wear out our arms and our patience on. He'll take everything from an occasional artificial lure to special home-made concoctions which smell so bad that the cat will try to bury them.

The variety of a catfish's appetite is matched only by the number of methods fishermen have devised for catching him. Kentucky anglers go after catfish with everything from cane poles to rods and reels which look like they belong on a deep-sea fishing expedition.

The heaviest tackle will show up below the dams at Kentucky and Barkley Lakes, where anglers "fish and boils" for big blue, channel or flathead cats. For those who want their catfish angling exciting, this is the way to fish.

The "boils" are the turbulent areas immediately below the dams where water from the generators is discharged. The water will actually boil up, sometimes as much as 18 inches, above the surrounding surface. In addition to water, the generators also discharge fish which have been sucked into the intakes and catfish gather at the outlets for an easy meal.

Expert boil fishermen prefer flat-bottom boats with small outboard motors. They run the bow of the boat into the boil, then let the motor hold the craft stationary against the flow of the water.

They then lower a hunk of cut bait directly down into the boil, using a 20 ounce sinker to counteract the upflowing current. And they pull out some monstrous fish. The state record blue catfish, a 100 pounder, was taken from Kentucky Dam.

Needless to say, this type of fishing is for the experienced. Just handling a boat in the boils takes some doing and it's definitely not the place to take the family for an afternoon's outing. But for those who want their catfish angling a little less exciting, there are suitable waters, and fish, just waiting. Many farm ponds throughout the state are stocked with channel catfish, and these small bodies of water can offer some fine fishing. Rivers and large streams also offer the opportunity to laze away a hot summer afternoon by sitting in the shade waiting for a catfish to pick up bait from the bottom.

Or you can try trotlining or limb lining. A limb line is just that—a line with a baited hook tied to an overhanging limb. The limb serves as a rod, its flexibility preventing the fish from jerking loose before the angler gets back to check it.

A trotline or limb line may be used by fishermen with a sport fishing license, but the trotlines must have no more than 50 hooks, with the hooks no closer together than 18 inches. These lines must be checked every 24 hours and must be removed from the water after use.

A favorite trotline bait is small bluegill or other bait fish, but cut bait or special catfish mixtures can also be used. For the family, on a combined fishing and camping trip, a trotline is sometimes an ideal choice. It can be set just before dark and run just after daylight, freeing the day for swimming, sight-seeing or other amusements.

Of course, some care must be exercised in handling a trotline. There are a lot of hooks flying around, and the fishermen should be careful, particularly when landing a large fish, not to catch themselves. Also remember that every member of a party participating in a trotline expedition should have a license, if one is required of them for other types of fishing.

There's no statewide size or creel limit on catfish in Kentucky and this species isn't really fished for as heavily here as in some other states. This makes it a natural for those wanting to fill a freezer with fresh fish or to invite the friends and relatives over for a fish fry.

And if you've never eaten fresh catfish, then you don't know what you're missing. The meat is white and firm and the taste just about unbeatable.

So if you want to try some change-of-pace fishing this summer, give catfish a try. Or take along some catfish gear on your next fishing trip—if the bass or crappie won't cooperate, maybe "old whiskers" will.

A stringer of 10 bass weighing in at 39 pounds was caught recently by Bob Moody (left) and "Red" Crowell. Four of the bass on the stringer weighed around 6 pounds each. The pair attributed their Barkley Lake catch to purple and blue worms.

A Strange Chorus

Each June the nation's warm water streams, ponds and lakes are host to the annual return of a renowned music group called the "Barrel 'O Rum" choir.

Composed mainly of voices that resemble the throaty sounds of a bass fiddle, the songsters serenade only at night, and are mostly interested in attracting mates.

By now you may have guessed that our musical group is a bunch of bullfrogs, and that June is their prime mating month.

Bullfrogs are good for something besides making noise. Many fishermen consider them excellent table fare, and they search out the biggest frogs in anticipation of a gourmet treat of deep-fried frog legs.

It's best to wait until early June to hunt frogs, since they'll be finished mating and a new crop will be in the egg stage by then. It takes several years for a frog to reach maturity.

There are several ways to capture bullfrogs. Catching them by hand permits the fisherman to return the frog to the water if it's determined to be too small after being taken.

Where this is not practical, a gig or a piece of red cloth tied to a hook is often used to catch bullfrogs.

Cleaning a frog is not an easy task for beginners, but it gets easier after a few lessons. One method calls for cutting away the back legs (which are to be eaten) and removing the skin from these with pliers. Take care not to pull the meat with the skin. The front legs and the back are also edible.

Soak the meat overnight in saltwater, rinse well and prepare for deep frying by rolling it in a batter made of eggs, milk and flour. Fry the pieces until golden brown and they're ready to eat!

Land Between The Lakes Experiences Biggest Weekend In 12 Year History

The largest single holiday weekend in the 12-year history of the Land Between The Lakes was recorded over the three-day Memorial Day period. Hillman Ferry Campground reopened on the Friday before the holiday, following installation of a new 55,000-gallon sewage treatment plant. A total of 503 groups, or approximately 2,400 people, flocked to the facility. The newly renovated Rushing Creek Campground accommodated 217 groups during the weekend. Heavy use also was reported at many other camping areas.

Plan Devised To Free Jammed Mechanical Arm On Viking I

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Viking 1 trouble shooters have successfully tested a plan they believe will free a jammed mechanical arm aboard the lander, a device that is critical in the search for life on Mars.

Engineers tried the scheme Friday on a duplicate Viking lander in a sandbox turned into a simulated Martian desert at Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

Late tonight, repair instructions will be fed into Viking's computer, and the results of the long-distance repair job will be known Sunday evening, said mission director Tom Young.

The jammed arm, which is the only tool Viking can use to obtain Martian soil for biological analysis, was the most serious of three problems to strike in recent days.

Officials said they would try next week to repair a seismometer designed to detect marsquakes. Problems with two radio circuits that are to transmit data 213 million miles from Viking to earth were still causing some trouble.

Viking's prime mission was threatened by a tiny locking pin that should have fallen clear of the dirt-scooping arm after the craft set down on the surface of Mars.

With the pin still in place, the first attempt to move the telescoping arm resulted in it becoming stuck Thursday.

The scheme for solving the problem involved ordering the arm to extend itself about 15 inches, at which time the pin should fall onto the surface of Mars.

Only if the diagnosis itself is wrong, and it is not the pin that is the root of the problem, will the arm remain jammed. Even if the pin does not fall clear, said Viking officials, the arm can be used, but certain precautions must be taken.

If the repair attempt is successful, the first digging in Martian soil will begin Wednesday.

The communications difficulties were blamed on malfunctioning equipment causing "conversations" between mission controllers and the robot probe to be limited in time.

In addition, fewer pictures were being sent back to earth. On Friday, a color picture that had been scheduled for relay to earth was canceled.

Scientists also issued the second weather report from Mars. The report, covering Wednesday and Thursday, said temperatures ranged from 123 degrees below zero to 24 below, slightly cooler readings than were reported earlier. The winds had shifted from east to southwest and were blowing 19 miles per hour at their strongest.

Matt Bryant of Charleston, Mo., Route 2, a senior organ major at Murray State University, will present his Concerto Performance on the campus Sunday, Aug. 1. Scheduled at 3:30 p.m. in the Farrell Recital Hall of the Price Doyle Fine Arts Center, Bryant and Prof. John C. Winter will perform "Concerto No. VI" for two organs by Antonio Soler, a most distinguished composer of the 18th century in Spain. Also appearing on the program will be Lisa McNight of Owensboro. Bryant, who has a piano minor, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Bryant of Charleston, Mo., Route 2. The Concerto Performance is a requirement for the Bachelor of Music Education degree.

Reagan And Ford Both Claim Enough Delegates For Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ronald Reagan and Gerald Ford both claim they now have the votes to win the GOP presidential nomination, but they are eyeing Mississippi's 30 uncommitted delegates as if they may yet be the key to victory.

Ford's chief delegate hunter says the President has 1,135 committed Republican convention delegates, five more than needed for nomination. Reagan campaign chief John Sears has said Reagan has 1,140 delegates.

Ford claimed support of 15 new delegates from Hawaii on Friday.

Since both Ford and Reagan can't have a majority, someone must be wrong. Most media surveys of delegate strength show Ford slightly ahead, but both candidates below the magic 1,130 mark.

The Associated Press tally of committed or declared delegates, with the addition of those Hawaiians not previously counted, places Ford at 1,096 delegates, Reagan with 1,024 and 138 uncommitted.

Jim Lake, Reagan's press secretary, said Friday: "We have felt for some time that the Ford forces would try to present numbers that might enable them to falsely claim victory at about this period in the campaign. Therefore, today's press conference didn't surprise us. Nor does their announcement particularly concern us."

Since neither Ford nor Reagan have made their delegate surveys public, it is impossible to tell how their lists differ.

On Friday, Reagan, who had been vacationing at his ranch, returned home, met with staff members and devoted several hours to phoning delegates.

Ford and Reagan have been lobbying Mississippi delegates heavily in recent days, through supporters in the state and on the phone.

There has been growing pressure on the 60-member delegation, which will cast 30 convention votes, to take a stand.

There were indications that Sunday's delegate meeting in Jackson might prompt a vote to support either Ford or Reagan, but several leaders said they preferred to wait for a showdown.

Meanwhile, House GOP leader John Rhodes said he believes Ford will score a narrow win at the Kansas City convention next month and then may have no alternative but to take Reagan as his running mate. Rhodes said a Ford-Reagan ticket would unify the party and appeal to conservatives across the country.

In Democratic news, a spokesman for Archbishop Joseph Bernardin would not rule out a meeting between Democratic candidate Jimmy Carter and the Archbishop, who heads the National Conference of Catholic Bishops.

Because of his position on abortion, and because he is a Baptist, some political analysts say Carter may be weak among Catholic voters.

Sen. Walter Mondale, a major target of Southern Republicans' campaign efforts against the Democratic ticket, was to begin his vice presidential campaign in Dixie.

Mondale planned a swing today through Georgia and South Carolina, capped by an indefinite stay at Carter's home in Plains, Ga.

FULTON, Ky. (AP) — The 14th International Banana Festival Princess Pageant will be held at Fulton City High School Aug. 19.

The princess and members of her court will ride in the Banana Festival parade Saturday, Aug. 21.

Drama Planned By Players At First Church

The Kentucky Baptist Student Union Drama Team, called the Son-Share Players, will present a special drama at the seven p.m. worship services on Sunday, July 25, at the First Baptist Church.

Members of the players group, chosen in state-wide auditions, are Marion Kirby and Mary Jane Stevens from Western Kentucky University, Rebecca McCoy and Joel Johnston from Georgetown College, and John Edwards from Morehead State University. They are presenting the drama at state parks, churches, shopping centers, and other places people gather throughout the summer.

Special music at the evening service will be by the Adult Choir, directed by W. Rudolph Howard, minister of music, with Mrs. John Bowker as organist and Mrs. G. M. Senate Panel Considering Changes In Tax Exemptions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxpayers who occasionally use their homes in connection with their jobs and then claim a tax deduction are in for bad news: Congress has voted to end the tax break.

The proposed tax revision would except employees whose bosses provide them no office space.

Meanwhile, the Senate Finance Committee on Friday eliminated from the big tax bill 11 of 73 business tax-cut provisions that had been under attack as special-interest legislation.

In deleting the amendments and nailing down five others, the committee agreed only that the provisions, because they are so controversial, should be put aside now and reconsidered later.

Some of the disputed amendments would affect only one company. Others would provide tax benefits to numerous firms. In acting on the 16 proposals, the committee chopped about $175 million off the estimated $1.7-billion-a-year cost of the package of 73 amendments.

In accepting a package of amendments to the catch-all tax bill for next year, the full Senate voted Friday to make the deduction even harder to get than under the version approved by the House last year.

Other provisions approved by the Senate would make alimony payments easier for divorced husbands to deduct, replace the current sick-pay provisions with a new benefit for disabled retirees and make permanent a $1.7-billion tax cut for small business.

Presbyterians To Hear Rev. Brock Sunday Moring

Rev. Don Brock of the Murray-Calloway Comprehensive Care Center will be the guest speaker at the 10:45 a.m. worship services on Sunday, July 25, at the First Presbyterian Church, 16th and Main Streets. His subject will be "The Need To Be Schooled."

The church choir, directed by Carl Mowry with Jim Wright as organist, will sing the anthem, "The Impossible Dream."

Scripture reading will be from John 5:1-9 and also responsive reading No. 33 on page 504.

Announcement was made that the congregation will hold a meeting on Sunday, August 1, following the morning worship service. Church School will be held at 9:30 a.m.

The Senate's action on business use of homes is aimed at clarifying a situation that has grown out of conflicting court rulings.

Numerous Americans now deduct a part of the cost of maintaining their home on grounds one room is used occasionally for job-related work.

The Senate amendment would virtually rule out such a deduction unless the worker has no other office and must use his home regularly.

Another provision would make it tougher to deduct the costs of maintaining a vacation home that is rented to others during most of the year. The two amendments together would save the Treasury $255 million a year.

Another $385 million would be saved by eliminating the sickpay system, which exempts from taxation a portion of an employee's earnings while he is ill. Instead, a $100-a-week exclusion would be allowed persons under 65 who retire because of permanent and total disability.

The Senate also agreed to an amendment that increases the tax benefits available for persons who, because of a job transfer, must move to a new area. This would cost an extra $55 million a year.

Still another measure, costing $59 million, would allow taxpayers to deduct the cost of alimony payments, regardless of how they figure their taxes. This benefit now is available only to taxpayers who itemize deductions.

Escapes Sought

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — State Police were searching for three trustees from the Kentucky State Reformatory near La Grange early today, who escaped from a work detail.

The trustees were "working around the Capitol" here Friday "stole a car and escaped," John Davidson of the state Department of Justice said.

The three were identified as Bafford Stockley and Jeffrey Fatolic, serving sentences for armed robbery, along with Michael Dennis, who had served 2½ years of a six-year term for willful murder.

"Fatolic had just two months to go before his parole board appearance," Davidson said.
